3:00 pm Malachy McCourt

"Good God! Where am I?"

Any fallible human being who claims to know the answer to the question, "What is life's purpose?" does not even know the question—so says, prolific author, actor and raconteur Malachy McCourt. McCourt says his own quest for the serenity that follows knowledge of the truth has taken him down the highways and byways, the low ways and he's still questing. He will explore his journey; sharing the glimpses he sees in the light of beliefs and faith of others. "At this moment, I believe our purpose on this earth is to serve," he says. "We can do that simply with a cup of coffee, piece of clothing, a kind word, or by sharing a laugh and helping the sick get well. And there's nothing that compels us to act more than seeing God's love in the face of a child.

3:00 pm John Ridge

"Lost Images of the Irish in New York City 1900-1965"

The speaker collected these images from his collection of original bound volumes of weekly New York newspapers such as the Gaelic American, Irish World and Irish Advocate. John Ridge's collection includes almost 100 complete years of newspapers and periodicals that contain some unusual views of Irish-American life in the metropolitan area. Almost all the pictures do not survive in their photographic form and can be seen now only as images reproduced from the newspapers themselves. The pictures include scenes of parades, demonstrations, celebrations, musicians and dancers, important visitors from Ireland and advertisements aimed at an Irish-American audience.
