Molloy College B.A. Spanish Language and Hispanic Literature and Cultures Program
Embark on an exciting journey through words, thoughts and diverse cultures and straight to a successful career with the undergraduate languages and cultures program. You’ll learn Spanish, Italian, French, Arabic, Chinese or English as a Second Language (ESL) in innovative ways that utilize state-of-the-art technology and focus on diverse facets of communication. At Molloy, we believe that learning a language is not just about grammar rules and vocabulary lists; it’s about learning new sounds, discovering different expressions and finding a whole new way to look at things. It’s learning how to understand and function in another culture from the inside out.

B.A. SPANISH LANGUAGE AND HISPANIC LITERATURE AND CULTURES – M.A. SPANISH PATHWAY

St. John’s University M.A. Spanish
The 33-credit graduate program in Spanish offers comprehensive and advanced study in the literature, language, and culture of Spain and Latin America. Courses are taught entirely in Spanish by internationally renowned experts in their fields. Students may choose a thesis or non-thesis track for the program. Opportunities are available for students to study abroad in Spain and Argentina, as well as to secure Spanish-speaking internships in New York City and abroad.

Graduates who have studied Spanish at the master’s level will be able to compete for a variety of jobs that require knowledge of Spanish language and culture. The publishing industry offers many opportunities, as does the field of education, where there is a great need for Spanish teachers at all levels. The program at St. John’s prepares students for these careers as well as doctoral study in Spanish and nonacademic positions in business and international trade, tourism, and hotel and restaurant management.
