Preparing for Nursing Certification for Palliative Care for Nurses

In the currently evolving health care field, it is important to remain on the cutting edge. Certification is one method to illustrate your expertise in the care of patients and families with advanced illness.

The certification for Hospice and Palliative Nurses involves knowledge of all disease processes, symptom management, goals of care for patients and their families through the course of their illnesses. Together we will examine the benefits of certification and resources available to aide in studying for this exam.

Ann Riccobene, MSN, GNP-BC, AOCN, ACHPN. Currently, I am a Nurse Practitioner working in Oncology at NYU Cancer Center. In my career, I have been integrating hospice and palliative principles into my practice. My experience includes the care of Geriatric and Oncology patients and their families since 1995.
