The Jamaica Field Service Project, a unique, ongoing program supported by the rotary, Peace Corp, and the Claudia Williams HIV Education Center of Jamaica, has partnered with Molloy College to offer a CMTE course in Jamaica in 2012. Learn the traditional music of the country with a strong emphasis on the Afro-Caribbean drumming, reggae, ska, and soca music that is such a large part of traditional Jamaican culture. Learn about the culture through immersion and structured, guided experiences. Participants will implement cultural music therapy methods with clients in varied sites in Jamaica. Participants will earn 45 CMTE credits.

Participants in the course will:

~Learn techniques of Afro-Caribbean drumming
~Learn about the culture of Jamaica, with emphasis on the music and its implications for use in music therapy
~Implement culturally based music therapy techniques
~Utilize peer supervision techniques

Instructors:  Evelyn Selesky, M.A., LCAT, MT-BC; Eric Wills, M.M

Schedule: June 20 – June 30, 2013

Location: St. Elizabeth Parish, Treasure Beach, Jamaica
