

Meghan J. Clark, Ph.D

Meghan J. Clark, Ph.D. is an assistant professor of moral theology at St John's University (NY). She is author of The Vision of Catholic Social Thought: the Virtue of Solidarity and the Praxis of Human Rights (Fortress Press, 2014), which won the 2015 Catholic Press Association first prize in Catholic social teaching. Dr. Clark spent fall 2015 as a Fulbright Scholar at Hekima University College Institute for Peace Studies and International Relations in Nairobi, Kenya. Her research has been published in Political Theology, Heythrop Journal, New Blackfriars and the Journal of Catholic Social Thought.

Currently, she serves as a faculty expert for the Holy See's Mission to the United Nations coordinated by St. John's Vincentian Center for Church and Society. In 2013, Dr. Clark was appointed as a Fellow of the Institute of Policy Research and Catholic Studies at Catholic University of America. She is on the Board of Directors of America Media, Inc and the faculty advisory board for Catholic Relief Services "CRS University" Global Learning Commons. From 2010-2013, she served as a consultant to the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops Domestic Justice and Human Development Committee under Bishop Stephen Blaire.

Active in public theology, she is a columnist for US Catholic magazine and blogs at Catholic Moral Theology and Millennial Journal. Dr. Clark received her Bachelor of Arts degree summa cum laude from Fordham University in 1999 with a double major in philosophy and theology. She received a Doctor of Philosophy (2009) in Theological Ethics from Boston College under the supervision of Fr. David Hollenbach, SJ.

She can be reached at: clarkm1@stjohns.edu