TESOL Certification Programs
Onsite Cohorts

These cohorts are usually made up of teachers from more than one district. However, teachers from the host district are given priority in registering for courses. Seats are limited.

The courses offered this spring will be offered in a hybrid format with 15 hours of in-class instruction and the rest of the course being done online and through at-home assignments. The courses will be offered at the discounted rate of $900 per course. The program is limited to those teachers who have a master’s degree and hold a valid New York State Teaching Certificate.

Cohorts Scheduled to Start in January 2015: These cohorts already held information sessions and the schedule of classes for the first courses was determined from feedback from teachers at the sessions. Similar feedback will determine future course schedules.
