

Professional Office Management LG2060

Students are introduced to practical and theoretical problems dealing with work product and workflow in the law office environment.

Students will learn about the law office-client relationship, case management and the benefits of establishing a records retention policy.

3 credits